Police identify 18-year-old struck and killed by train in Middletown

Middletown dad bikes for parents

Posted in News on Wednesday, August 6th, 2008 at 11:12 am by Education Reporter Rachel Canelli

Middletown resident Bill Koellner recently embarked on a 758-mile bike trek with five other divorced Michigan fathers from Lansing, M.I., to Washington, D.C., to raise awareness about equal parenting.

The 44-year-old divorced father is still trying to raise $3,000 for the trip. To sponsor him, make checks payable to PA FACE and mail to 1002 Society Place, Newtown, PA, 18940. For more information, visit www.paface.org.

After stopping in Unity, P.A., and participating in rallies in Ohio and Pittsburgh, the dads' trip will end Friday night in Washington, D.C. at the second annual Family Preservation Festival, according to organizers.

Experts claim research shows that kids thrive when both parents are actively involved in their lives, according to Pennsylvania Families and Children's Equality.
